

Thursday 25th February English Task

Setting Description

Today I would like you to pretend you have just woken up on this deserted island. You are going to use our work from yesterday to write a description of what you can see.

Task 1: Listen to Miss Strachan reading an extract of Kensuke's Kingdom. It is the part in the book where a boy wakes up on a deserted island and he is exploring his surroundings.

Task 2: Look at your descriptive sentences from yesterday. You are now going to use them to write a detailed description of the island you have just washed up on.

Use the template below, or a piece of paper to write a short diary entry after you have explored the island, explaining what it is like.

Dear diary,
